

SALAR DE UYUNI

DAY 685 - SALAR DE UYUNI, BOLIVIA - 14633 KM

Some places make you wonder if you're still on Earth, and this is one of them. Cycling and camping on the world's biggest salt lake is a novel experience in many aspects. Long before I started this bicycle journey, I was struck by the images of this magical area, and it was the prospect of cycling here that sparked my dream of traversing the high plains of South America.