

EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY

With their camper kitted out as a workspace to make and print portraits, the Vanajeros gang set out from the United States to reach the southernmost tip of the American continent with a novel creative idea.