

01
In the children's bedroom, the playful images on the wall are framed pages from a children's book. The wooden chairs are from Neugebauer's youth and the white table and chairs from his grandparents
02
Propped against the wall near the entrance are pictures that the owners haven't found homes for yet. The Jacobsen Egg chair in the background was a gift from Wolfgang Joop

02
03
In the master bedroom, low lamps by ClassiCon hang on each side of the bed. The floor rug is from Morocco and the wooden stool from a farm in the Netherlands
04
The living and dining areas are an open space divided by one wall painted a deep grey. The armchair and sidetable are by Finn Juhl
05
Staircase to the second-floor apartment
06
Entrance to the 1905 apartment building

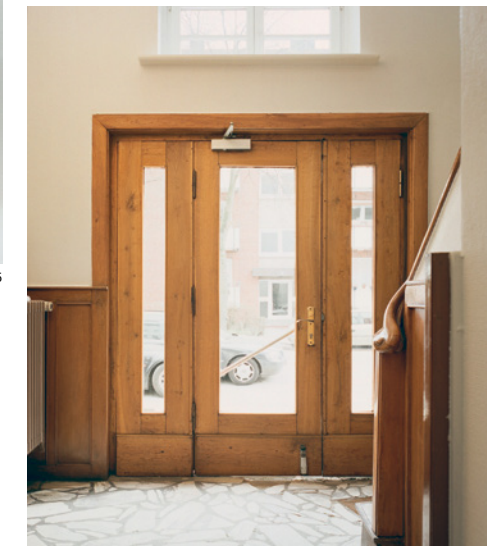

03

04

05

06

The details

Interior designer:
Wolfram Neugebauer
Year built: Originally constructed in 1920s; refurbished in 2007.
Size: 150 sq m

Layout: 2 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms and a living room.

Key materials: Slate flooring in the bathroom.

Why we'd live here: Minimal colour can be soothing and stimulating; the apartment's blacks, whites and greys set the stage for outstanding furnishings, intriguing accents and plenty of room for living.