

Scout Seattle

In a market that long prioritized performance and absolute functionality as the sole criteria for judging camping gear, Scout Seattle is one of the companies changing the stakes. Founder and designer Ben Masters adds iconic beauty and sublime design aesthetics to the equation. From the selvedge denim and Japanese chambray Field Bed to the Sunforger canvas Single Pole Tent held up by a collapsible hickory and antique brass pole, Scout Seattle appeals to today's outdoor enthusiasts who want to go back to the basics in style.
