

Everybody has dreams. Some dream during the day, but most do it during the night. There can be bad dreams. Some don't make any sense at all!

Some dream of things that don't yet exist. Without dreams, everything would stay the same. A dream shows the impossible made possible.