

Sandwiches can be traditional or contemporary. This succulent example from Dallal restaurant in the fashionable Neve Tzedek district tops freshly cooked spinach with a poached egg and fish roe. Opposite page: Enjoying a quick bite of a classic dish: falafel in pita.

Cosmopolitan Tel Aviv has everything—espresso bars, pizzerias, Chinese restaurants, and burger joints—but many diners still enjoy its locally made hummus.

