

(Above) In the living room, furnishings have almost Japanese aesthetic, in particular the coffee table and daybed, with their stark geometric forms. (Below left) A large, free-standing, trough-like basin beneath a window in the bathroom. (Below right and opposite) Throughout the house, the millwork and joinery are outstanding—from the gently curved edge of this alcove seating to the table and chairs in the dining room.