

“

Experiencing a building that has been in the same place for centuries can evoke a similar reverence as encountering an ancient tree in the forest.

— HANS PETER DINESEN

Tatami is a Japanese unit of measurement that originated from the size of traditional tatami mats used as flooring in Japanese homes and buildings.