

A Dazzling Night Out in the Arctic

Staring into vast starry skies from the comfort of a Ski Doo-drawn sleeping pod

ESKO'S CABIN
LAPLAND,
FINLAND

Guests staying at Esko's Cabin are towed by snowmobile to the middle of a frozen lake, where they spend the night in cosy comfort with nothing but each other and the dark sky for company. It's a truly unique experience, made all the more magical by the chance to see the northern lights dance across the sky above Inari, a cluster of islands where the water freezes over in winter. Added extras include soaking in a wood-fired hot tub, taking a husky sleigh ride across the frozen landscape, dabbling in a little ice fishing, and partaking in a feast of fish and reindeer around a cosy open fire.
