

"If you walk around a car, it must always look right. There should never be any perspective from which your eye is not satisfied."