

BALKANS & TURKEY

The Balkan Peninsula and Turkey are home to more under-the-radar hiking gems than any other part of the Mediterranean. From the bewitching beauty of the Accursed Mountains to the soaring granite peaks and yawning gorges of the Pindos region, natural wonders abound, and historical reminders—both ancient and recent—wait to be discovered around every bend.

