

Throughout the design, rustic finishes combine with contemporary Scandinavian pieces for a serene, natural feel. A glass roof above the living area brightens the house during winter and makes it feel more connected to the garden in summer.

