

BIBLIOTHECA ALEXANDRINA

DESIGNED BY SNØHETTA

BUILT 1995-2001

ALEXANDRIA, EGYPT

Some 2,300 years after the destruction of its famed predecessor, this Egyptian library is making a second attempt at bringing all the world's knowledge together in one place through dialogue, cosmopolitanism, and digitization