

Sliding windows open up the living space to the terrace with marble floors flowing between the two.