

Sun also loves to fly kites, especially the ones he makes himself. On windy days, they fly high across the sky, dancing among the clouds and the birds.

Look at all the kites he has created! With sticks, paper, paint, and string, Sun makes them in all sorts of shapes, colors, and patterns, allowing his imagination to take flight, too.