

A NEW TAKE ON ARTS AND CRAFTS STYLING

Arts and Crafts Home · Spaces by Hollie Velten ·
Maplewood, NJ, USA

Richly grained wood accents, beautifully patterned wall coverings, and artisan tiles are the hallmarks of this restyled kitchen in an American Arts and Crafts home. The clients were installing a new deVol kitchen and enlisted the services of Spaces by Hollie Velten to ensure that the interior design maintained the aesthetics of the home's original styling. In an L-shaped unit flanking two walls of the kitchen, simple, bone-colored cabinet and drawer fronts with brass pulls sit beneath a marble countertop with an inset butler's sink at the center of one run and a gas range in the other. Above the stove is a tiled backsplash and a brass rail hung with copper cookware. In the adjoining spaces, the palette sets earthy, natural greens, yellows, and pinks against the dark wood of the paneled walls, which also feature checkered tiled sections and floral wallpaper. Emphasizing "human qualities and imperfections with character," the designer hand-picked materials like artisan tiles and hand-drawn wallpaper designs, eschewing anything overly trendy.
