

Make Your Big Day Truly Yours!

A guide to decisions big and small for making your celebration unique

Feeling daunted? That's only natural. But planning your wedding together can be really fun, we promise! The following guide takes you through the things to consider for your big day, answers questions, and points out alternatives to the classic celebration. Essentially, it's all about making your big day truly yours!

Above Whether you are celebrating in the great outdoors or in your own garden, Champagne brings a fair serving of glamour to any venue!
Top left Your vows will be especially deep and meaningful if you have composed them yourself.
Center left Make sure to agree your wedding song with your DJ, and specify what type of musical genres you like and what's a real no-go for you.
Bottom left In case the weather has any rainy surprises in store, make sure you are ready with a Plan B that includes umbrellas and even somewhere you can dodge the showers.
