

FRANCE

While its glamorous Riviera captures the lion's share of attention, the French Mediterranean also showcases some of the country's premier hiking trails. From Corsica's jagged spine and the Maritime Alps to the border-straddling Pyrenees, ambling options abound in this beautiful region where steeped mountains meet deep blue waters.