

Gavello's jewelry derives the underlying meaning from spiritual references and powerful symbols. Crosses, all-seeing eyes, and light-refracting gemstones weave through the collections like common threads. Today, their daughter Elisabetta Gavello, is responsible for the design process and brand identity, guiding the company's creative journey.