

ADAM DANT
NEW YORK TAWK

◆ The subtitle of this poster reads "Jonathon Green's 100 Years of Slang and the City"—Green being a renowned English lexicographer. Dant's hand-colored line print presents a map of Manhattan populated by monochrome caricatures of the kinds of people you might see walking the streets.

— NEW YORK/CITY, 2018, COURTESY OF TAG FINE ARTS

CARISSA POTTER
SALEM MAP

◆ Salem Map is screen-printed by hand and features an outline of the coastal Massachusetts town. Rather than presenting the map geographically, with street names, Potter has filled the area with cute illustrations of key historic sights, many of them witch and witchcraft related on account of the infamous Salem witch trials that took place here in 1692, and which have come to shape much of the city's cultural identity.

— SALEM/USA, PRINTED IN ITS OWN RIGHT FOR PEOPLE I'VE LOVED