

JOSEPH SARACENO AND WILSON WONG

Photographer Joseph Saraceno teams up with creative Wilson Wong to create potent images epitomizing the cultural shift in cannabis use in recent years—primarily a distancing from the hippie tripping of the 1970s weed scene toward a more sophisticated, cultured, lifestyle vibe. The accessories emerging in recent years are high on design and serve as decorative ornaments in their own right. Gold-plated grinders, maple-bark rolling trays, sleek-line keychain carriage cases—luxury items crafted from noble materials that speak for themselves. *
