Lviv, Ukraine

OUUM is a design studio that specializes in CG architecture visualizations, interior design, and post-production. Inspired by 1960s and 1970s designers like Verner Panton and the Swinging Sixties movement in London, the studio launched its Technicolor Dream series to imagine wildly colorful interiors—spaces that could be considered art in themselves. The images pop with vibrant yellows, hot pinks, and Egyptian blues and make use of elements from Spanish modern architecture, such as Ricardo Bofill's famous housing project La Muralla Roja. ✦
