

To his astonishment, Fox soon finds himself right in the heart of a forest! But instead of being surrounded by trees, he's actually swimming between giant algae, or kelp! He tries to identify some of them:

