

Kentaro Poteliakhoff has taken the concept of Victorian opulence very much to heart. The walls in his four-story home are painted in fondant pastels, with names like “Bakelite green” and “coconut-ice pink.” In the living room (above), sturdy antiques, chintzy treasures, and a handful of modern pieces all coexist in perfect harmony.